Alma Mater

On old Hayden's southern border
Reared Against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater,
As the years go by.
Praise to thee our Alma Mater,
Moulder of Mankind.
Greater Glory, love unending
Be forever thine!
Balmy breezes gently wafted
through inspiring halls;
Mem'ries leaflets closely twining,
Shall fore'er recall
Yesterdays that waken in our hearts a tender glow.
Making greater still the love that we have learned to know.
Ever onward! Be our watchword,
Conquer in each test,
We owe a life of loyal service to old H. H. S.
Praise to thee, our Alma Mater
Moulder of mankind,
Greater Glory, love unending
Be forever thine.

Class History

"Time and tide wait for no man," says the H.H.S. Class of '50. What a short time, seemingly, since one hot day in July in the year 1947, we entered school as Sr. I's numbering thirty-five.

When we became organized, John McCombs was elected President and Carroll Allinder, Secretary.

Mrs. Faulkner was our home room teacher and by her faithful guidance we had one of our best years.

Our boys had been playing basketball for three years in Junior high and were more enthusiastic this year than ever.

The main event of the year was our trip to Tuscaloosa in April.

The year ended a great success only eight of the class had dropped out.

"Over the top," went the Sr. II Class of '48. Our Class was smaller but we had just as much spirit as the preceeding year.

We organized our class early with Paul Thomas, becoming our President; Sarah Jo Miller, Secretary and Treasurer.

We soon became very near and dear friends of Miss Martin and Mr. Atwood, our homeroom teachers.

A nice trip to swinging bridge on Easter was our pleasure of the year.

"Hi, Hi, Hi, Seniors," was the call that assembled our class in the summer of '49, but we were crestfallen upon looking around and finding a few of our faithful members missing, nevertheless, we were glad to see a new member, Bertie Lee Canada, added to our class, who helped to make us in number twenty-three strong.

Our Class officers again this year were; Paul Thomas, President; Mary Catherine Green, Secretary and Jaquelyn Loggins, Treasurer. Blue and white were chosen as colors. "Victory is ours forever watch us climb," became our motto.

Mrs. Goodwin, our homeroom teacher, became a friend to us and helped make our Senior year a great success.

To secure finance, the play "Leave it to us," was given and added to the list of our joyful events.

The Junior-Senior Banquet given in our honor is an event that will be long remembered.

Publishing the High School annual marks our greatest accomplishment of our Senior year.

As we have reached the top step of the stairway of twelve, we believe success is ours and may the memories of the years we've shared together in our old Alma Mater, forever live in our hearts and yours.

Class Will and Testament

Upon behalf of the Senior Class of Nineteen hundred and fifty I have called you together on this serious occasion to listen to our Last Will and Testament.

We, the class of 1950, in the town of Hayden and state of Alabama, being of brilliant minds made this our Last Will and Testament.

To the entire Senior class of 1950-1951, we wish for them success and happiness through out their Senior year.

To our home room teacher, Mrs. Ethel Goodwin, goes the admiration and friendship of the class of 1950.

Betty Cox leaves her musical talent to Betty Jo Gardner. Margaret Salyers wills her voice to Eunice Hayes. To Doris Wall goes Iris Armstrong's red hair. Ruth Angle leaves her ability to write poetry to Jimmy Collumn. Bertha Mae Sims awards her beauty to Melverie Baldwin.

J. T. Reid's brown eyes go to Ralph Abbott. To Louie Edward Fowler, Walter Howard Calvert wills his ability to give orders. Betty Ruth Love wishes for Verla Lee Campbell to have her blond hair. Jacqulyn Loggins bequeaths her Class Treasurer job to Era Speers.

Jewell Millican leaves her personality to Carolyn Reid. To Wanzell Graves goes Laverna Armstrong's height. Patsy Culwell wishes to leave her love for a certain boy to Bobby Nell Walker. Lois Millican leaves her ability to make and keep friends to Doris Harkness.

Troy Bullard wills his back-seat in English class to Barbara Jean Cates. John McCombs leaves his good grades in chemistry to Lola Dee Hill. Clara Standridge leaves her typing grades to Edna McKenzie.

For myself, Mary Cathrine Green, I will my gray eyes to Norma Jean Leiuallen.

Class Prophecy

We members of the Senior Class have come to the end of one stanza of which the epic that is our lives. Regretfully yet happily, we leave it and as we do so, we gaze wistfully into the unknown future, knowing that such a happy, industrious group of boys and girls as we could have nothing but successful and useful lives, we bravely face the future.

I have not experienced a great amount of curiosity concerning the future, however for my satisfaction and the satisfaction of others I have borrowed a crystal ball and though it is green with age, it has served beautifully its purpose to reveal to me the future of my fellow classmates.

As I gazed into the swirling green depths of the globe I saw the numbers seven and three, then faintly the word "decade." So I knew my jaunt into the future to be at a time ten years hence.

Then I saw: Paul Thomas as the proprietor of a moving picture house in Hollywood, California.

Bertha Mae Sims as a bookkeeping teacher at Draughon's Business College in Birmingham, Alabama.

Margaret Salyers as superintendent of the Norwood Hospital in Birmingham.

Dora Horton with her Mrs. degree and happily employed. Betty Cox as a teacher of a Singing School at Cleveland, Alabama, Betty Ruth Love as a Secretary of a business firm.

Carroll Alliender, a coach at the University of Alabama, and his wife, Mary Cathrine Green, a teacher in the same school. Jacqueline Loggins, operator of a beauty salon in her home town. Jewell Millican as Physical Education teacher at Hayden, where, as the crystal ball revealed to me, four of her sturdy sons attended school, Walter Howard Calvert is selling hot dogs, and like the man in the song, kisses every pretty girl that passes. Ruth Angle composes Hill Billy Songs.

The murky greenness of the ball swirled and I saw: Troy Bullard in Washington, as a Senator. LaVerna Armstrong who had finally married her old high school boy friend, John McCombs married to a former student of Hayden, and employed as manager of one of Wrigley's chewing gum factories, Harold Webster, President of a Business College, and the only requirement for entrance was to be able to do the two-step. J. T. Reid, a clerk in a Department store in Georgia. Dent Mann a football player with the University of Florida, Patsy Culwell, waitress in a Restaurant in Hayden. Iris Armstrong in New York, designing hats, Lois Millican as a beautician in a beauty salon in Cullman, Alabama.

So ends this prophetic epistle dealing with the class of 1950. But even as we begin to write a new stanza to epic that is our lives, we do so with warm but saddened remembrance and hopeful hearts, that the next stanza will be as bright as in the past.

Class Poem

Dear Friends, we must now say farewell,
But in our hearts old memories shall always dwell,
Of our school days, so carefree and gay,
Each of us must go on a separate way.

The pages of life must turn,
Greater things of life we must now learn,
No more, for us shall these days be,
Except in memory for you and me.

Our struggles we've faced side by side,
We've crossed the plains of the past, so wide,
Those days are now forever o'er,
Yet may we go through life as unfaltering as before.

To you we now leave the colors to uphold,
Whipped out in flossy raveling of black and gold,
Forward we now go, sensing no fear,
But remembering, nineteen and fifty, as the year.
